DANCING SKELETONS: LIFE AND DEATH IN WEST AFRICA BY KATHERINE A. DETTYWYLER. 1.1 In the first chapter, Katherine A. Dettwyler talks about the beginning of her research in Mali. First time that she came to Magnambougou she was a graduate student doing her research on malnutrition and feeding of infants in the area. As that was the focus of her fieldwork, she was often mistaken for a doctor. The story of a woman that asked her for help with her two-years-old son is presented in the ...

Ethnography Dancing Skeletons; Life and Death in West Africa Response: I found Katherine A. Dettwyler's, Dancing Skeletons; Life and Death in West Africa very interesting though I did not like the way in which it was written. To me it was written in a very scattered brain way, similar to how a hyperactive childs diary would look like. At times when Dettwyler was trying to explain something ...
